Question from Mel

How can I find my passion? My life's mission? What I am good at?

Question from Doina

How to maintain a positive attitude about money when your current financial situation is not good?

Question from Chuck

I have this wonderful woman in my life. We get along great and we have romantic feelings for each other. We haven't been able to be in a relationship because she's got things going on in her life that she feels she needs to focus on and now she may be joining the military and moving to the other side of the country for 4 years. I realize that I could just attract another person, but I don't want to. I also don't want to be selfish and get in the way of my friend's goals either. Whenever I see her, she always tells me and shows me how she feels about me, so our affection is indeed mutual. What I want is a situation, where we can both reach our goals and still be together. Is this possible? If so what is the best way to attract this situation with this specific person?

Question from Debbie

Why do I feel as though I'm less than other people and that they will reject me and what I have to say?

Question from Corinna

How can I use the law of attraction to help me gain mental focus?
(I know what I need to do but can't seem to sit down and do it)

Question from Debbie

How can you know that the person you are going to get involved with is the "the one" after so many failed relationships? I question my choices... They always seem to be with the same caliber or person.

Question from June

According to a person who channeled my spirit guides, I am a very old soul who's lived hundreds of lives. Most of these were as a celibate monk in different religions and orders. Apparently, at the beginning, I agreed to a vow of poverty. This will be my last life on earth if I can fulfill my life purpose. The thing I need to do is change my feelings about money, break the chains of the vow, and live a wonderfully abundant and peaceful life. Then I can help people in any way I want. So, how do I break the chains of the vow of poverty and my relationship with money?

Question from Bob

Does the law of attraction really work? Who teaches the law of attraction, and how do you make it work in your life for free?
